U. G. Garrett took the stand in his own behalf here this morning at the trial of the former county judge on charges of misuse of public funds entered its second and possibly the final day. Defense testimony was completed this morning and the arguments are scheduled to begin at 1 p. m. The jury should get the case by midafternoon.

The former judge was indicted by a grand jury on June 22 on charges of allowing claims in violation of a state law and failing to pay over public funds. Charged with him were his secretary during his term, Mrs. Wanda Grummett, and a local oil and gas distributor, L. E. Poteet. Mrs. Grummett is charged with embezzlement or grand larceny by bailment, and Mr. Poteet is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses and forgery.

Prosecuting Attorney Royce Weisenberger and his special assistant, James H. Pilkinton, completed their case yesterday. Boyd Tackett, Texarkana attorney, and C. V. Nunn, Jr., former Hope city attorney, represent Mr. Garrett.

The former judge told how many times he paid claims out of his own pocket when the county was out of money and would later collect from the county.

The prosecution charged that a sum of $1,141.01 was paid three times by the county to L. E. Poteet, the oil and gas dealer, and that the former judge owed this money to the county.

At one time during his testimony Mr. Garrett charged that the only person not confused about the whole case was W. S. Atkins, local attorney whom he said was behind the whole thing. Deputy Prosecutor Pilkinton admonished the former judge not to bring personalities into the case.

The grand jury was called into session on May 11 and returned the indictments about six weeks later.

Before the grand jury session four civil suits were filed against Garrett to recover money and property which the plaintiffs contended belonged to Hempstead County. These suits were filed by B. W. Edwards, a contractor, and Monroe Kent, a farmer. They are members of a citizens group which paid some $1,300 for a special audit of county records. This audit was made available to the grand jury.

The description of the getaway car matched that of a car reported stolen Monday in Louisiana, of officers said.

The bank was a branch of the First National Bank of Magnolia.

No Protests, City to Pass Sewer Plan

A comparatively small group attended the city's hearing on the proposed increase in sewer rates yesterday at City Hall.

The meeting was called by the Board after the city had sold $210,000 worth of revenue bonds with which to install many of the original sewer lines throughout the city.

Afterwards the Board announced its intentions of revising the sewer fees, setting minimums of $1.25 per month for residences, commercial houses and industries, or 25 per cent of your water bill, average for the months of November, December and January. Actually this amounts to an increase for practically everyone.

At yesterday's meeting City Manager Garland Medders and members of the Board invited protests and suggestions. The city's position was explained during a question and answer session. Apparently, those present were satisfied and there was no suggestion as to other plans to finance the project.

The Board will officially vote on an ordinance setting up the new rates.

J. A. Cofield 43, Dies at Little Rock

The body will be returned here for burial. Herndon-Cornelius will announce arrangements.

Contract Let for Bois d' Arc Game Preserve

The Arkansas Game & Fish Commission let contract yesterday for completion of the Bois d' Arc project. Low bidder was the A. K. McBride Construction Co. of Fort Smith. His bid was $80,797.30, according to Gus Albright of the G. & F.

This preserve is located three miles southwest of Spring Hill and calls for a levee 15 feet high and 12,000 feet long. The contractor has 200 working days in which to complete the job. Some work has been done on the project.

It is not very likely that the project can be completed this year, according to Mr. Albright, who pointed to the weather as a key factor. Right now the area is too wet for construction to start.

This preserve has been one of the key projects of the Hempstead Wildlife Association and when completed will give this area a fine hunting and fishing site.

Lime Pays the Farmer Real Well

Lime returns about $6 for each dollar invested by the farmer, according to County Agent Calvin Caldwell. "You can't neglect its use."

Mr. Caldwell points out that all of us know that today the efficient farmer is the only one able to meet competition and remain in business. If today's farmer plans to be in business tomorrow, then he must employ every known efficient production practice. He must not forget to have his soil tested and apply the necessary lime to maintain an adequate pH for maximum crop production.

Liming is the first step in restoring soil fertility. It supplies essential foods, calcium and magnesium. Liming boosts the efficiency of both manure and commercial fertilizers. Lime improves plant yields and legumes simply will not grow in a soil with a low calcium supply. Liming granulates the soil, improves tilth and drainage and speeds the decay of organic matter and the formation of humus. There simply is no substitute for limestone in correcting soil acidity and correcting soil acidity raises the pH value and increases your yields and profits per acre.

Race Trouble Continues in Chicago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Police were out in force again today in Chicago's racially tense Southwest Side where 20 white persons have been injured by roving gangs and 71 Negroes arrested in the past 10 days.

Groups of Negro youths continued to roam the drab, run-down area near the Harrison High School despite the presence of a task force of about 150 policemen Monday.

A 17-year-old white youth was grabbed by three Negroes about his own age while on the way to work, dragged into an alley near the school, slashed, knocked down and kicked. However, he was not injured seriously. Police said two Negro youths, seized a half block from the scene, carried a length of tire chain and a bottle of wine.

Another Negro was arrested for flinging rocks at passing cars, police said, and eight others were picked up for refusing to leave a street corner.

Detective Charles Glass told a coroner's jury the fatal shooting of a 17-year-old Harrison Negro pupil last Wednesday appeared to have sparked the forays by young Negro gangs.

At Biloxi, Miss., Walter A. Bailey, supreme vice president of the Ku Klux Klan, said he wired the KKK offered its help "in every way possible." Bailey did not elaborate. He also charged Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy "has turned his back on the white people of the nation. Therefore, it is the duty of the white people of the nation who are opposed to integration to form a solid wall of resistance."

At Jackson, Miss., City Judge James Spencer convicted the 29 "Freedom Riders" on breach of the peace charges. This brought to 244 the total convicted since the riders began challenging Mississippi's century-old segregation laws May 21.

Five riders who left New York last Thursday were refused counter service at a Chattanooga, Tenn., restaurant for half an hour after the counter was closed. Then they were escorted out by four uniformed policemen and departed in a private car.

At Montgomery, Ala., U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. withheld action on a new request for an injunction to prohibit organized Freedom Riders in Alabama. He directed opposing attorneys to present written briefs before he makes a ruling.

Six Columbus, Ga., Negroes were arrested on charges of violating the state's bus seating law in an unsuccessful attempt to desegregate Columbus city buses. Police said they sat in the front area of two buses and refused to move to the rear when ordered to do so.

Hospital Bonds

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A low bid of 4.1 per cent was submitted by Dabbs Sullivan Co. of Little Rock Monday on $1.4 million worth of bonds for a county hospital. The bond money will be used with Hill - Burton funds to build a $2.1 million facility.

House Fire Fatal to Texarkanian

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Christine Martin, 41, died in a fire which destroyed her home Monday. Police said gasoline which she was cleaning her floors with was ignited by a pilot light or stove and exploded. The house was on U.S. Highway 72, about four miles east of here.

ACL to Split Surplus in Two Weeks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two weeks from today the Arkansas Legislative council begins thrashing out the problem of how $12 million in surplus state funds should be spent.

It could be a long, harrowing process.

And it could delay the start of a special legislative session on finance past the middle of August. The council decided Monday to allow any agency or institution to air its views on how the money should be spent. After the hearings, the council will make recommendations to the legislature.

The ground rules for the hearings are fairly simple. The door will be barred to no one, and the council may consider reducing budgets of any state agencies to provide additional construction funds.

The council has asked all agencies and institutions which would have received funds from the governor's $76 million spending program to prepare to justify their needs in view of the reduced amount of money available.

The $76 million program was killed by the voters and the state Supreme Court. The court ruled a $14.5 million omnibus spending bill unconstitutional, and voters turned down a $60 million construction bond issue.

There was some controversy in the council's Monday meeting as to the scope of the Aug. 1 hearings. Some said construction items should be given priority but Little River Rep. Marion Crank said such an agenda would shut out agencies wanting non-construction money. Also, some legislators wanted the council to limit itself to consideration of the surplus funds and construction money. But no limit was placed.

In the next two weeks, the council will get all the fiscal facts it can from the comptroller, who will also round up a report on unexpended 1960-61 funds.

The big job of the council will be sifting real needs from wants. Legislators who led opposition to the bond issue and omnibus act were not present at Monday's council meeting. One of them, who asked that his name not be used, said he and others intended to submit their spending proposals only to the special session. "We'd be foolish to do anything but sit tight for the time being," he said. "The time to act is when the special session convenes."

The governor must call the session. He once mentioned that it might start the middle of July, then the first of August, then the middle of August.

Now the exact starting date is anybody's guess.

Russia Told Threats Against Berlin Is Jeopardizing Peace

Communist Troops Ring All of Berlin

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN, Germany (AP) — Soviet and Communist East German army forces have set up a military ring around Berlin, sources close to the Bonn Defense Ministry said today.

The informants declared the Communists have about 67,500 troops and more than 1,200 tanks stationed in a girdle 10 miles out side the city.

So far the Communists have given no signs of snapping the ring shut around the city. But it helps add psychological pressure in the current Soviet diplomatic offensive.

The East Germans also are building anti-aircraft rocket bases in two rings around Berlin, one 25 miles and the other 50 miles from the city center, the sources said. Some of the bases, containing Soviet rockets, were reported already completed and manned by East German soldiers.

The informants gave this breakdown of Communist military manpower stationed around Berlin:

Soviet army—one tank and two motorized infantry divisions and five border security battalions with a total strength of about 44,500 men and 900 tanks.

East German army—one division, four regiments and one battalion totaling 14,000 men with 200 tanks.

Alert police—units of 4,000 men 60 tanks and 100 armored cars. East German border police—four units totaling 5,000 men equipped with 60 tanks and about 100 armored cars.

The Soviet forces were reported equipped with heavy T10 and the medium T54 tanks, as well as heavy artillery, anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns and rocket launchers. The informants said the equipment of the East German army is similar.

The West German Defense Ministry estimates the Communists can also call upon about 30,000 militia men armed with light infantry weapons. The militia are located in East Berlin.

A total of 11,000 Allied troops are stationed in West Berlin as a symbolic force. These could be reinforced by 3,000 West Berlin alert police armed with light infantry weapons. The regular West Berlin police force totals 10,000 men, including traffic squads and detectives.

The Communists can mobilize an armed force of about 1,400,000 men in all of East Germany, including about 400,000 regular Soviet troops.

The Western powers have about 621,000 in West Germany, including about 250,000 U.S. soldiers.

Space Venture Is Delayed by Weather

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States' second manned space shot is now scheduled for 6 a. m., Eastern Standard Time Wednesday, having been delayed by the arrival of high buttermilk clouds.

Air Force Capt. Virgil I. Grissom, the astronaut ticketed for the rocket ride, took the news of the 24-hour delay calmly.

When Grissom, 35, was awakened shortly after 10:30 p. m. Monday night and told of the postponement, he shrugged, then went back to sleep.

The news came to Grissom just 2 1/2 hours before he was to begin his medical checkups and don his 20-pound space suit.

The postponement on the advice of a special team of U. S. Weather Bureau experts came as something of a surprise since all predictions up to 6:30 p. m. had said it would be clear.

Nelson Cox, secretary of the Game & Fish Commission, will be present.

It would be appreciated if the ladies of the organization would bring either a cake or pie for the fish fry, and the men will do all the potato-peeling, cooking and serving. Be sure to attend the fish fry Thursday night.

Big 3 Allies Send Notes in Harmony Move

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France told the Soviet Union today it is jeopardizing world peace and endangering the lives of millions by its threats against West Berlin.

The Western powers completely rejected the Soviet Union's claim that it can wipe out their Berlin rights simply by signing a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany. At the same time they offered to try to work out a "negotiated settlement of the unresolved problems of Germany."

Should the Soviets press the crisis, the U.S. note said, the "international dispute arising out of Soviet claims would have the gravest effect upon international peace and security and endanger the lives and well-being of millions of people."

For this menace to world peace, the note said, the Soviet Union must bear full responsibility before all mankind.

At another point the U.S. note declared:

"There is no reason for a crisis over Berlin. If one develops it is because the Soviet Union is attempting to invade the basic rights of others."

The notes were delivered in Moscow Monday and made public simultaneously today in Washington, London and Paris. The one here was given out at the white House as a reply to a memorandum which Soviet Premier Khrushchev handed President Kennedy at their Vice conference June 4.

"All the world will plainly see," the United States asserted, "that misuse of such words as 'peace' and 'freedom' cannot conceal a threat to raise tension to the point of danger and suppress the freedom of those who now enjoy it."

The warning was coupled with an offer to try to settle the crisis by negotiation on the principle of self-determination for the German people.

Similarly, the British and French notes left the door open for negotiation.

France declared that the Soviet Union cannot unilaterally alter the present status of Berlin, including the occupation of West Berlin by the United States, Britain and France.

Specifically France rejected the Communist contention that Berlin is properly part of the territory of Communist East Germany.

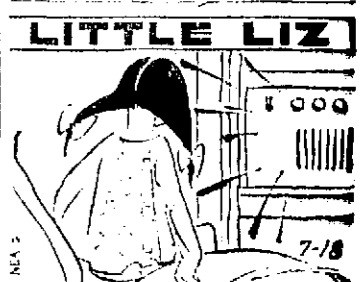

The British note rejected the

Alcoa Sends Welcome Sign to the City

The City of Hope has just received three 24"x30" scotchlite signs reading "Welcome to Hope." The signs were furnished by Alcoa Aluminum Company as a bonus for using aluminum street markers throughout the city. The scotchlite sign was furnished by the Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co. who participates with Alcoa in this offer of free signs to communities using aluminum reflectors.

The Board of Directors at their meeting Monday afternoon decided that two of the signs should be placed on Highway 67 and the third sign on Highway 29 at the southern edge of the city limits. The signs will be erected within the next few days and will mark these three entrances with welcome signs that will be attractive and can be read day or night.

Soviet claim that conditions in Berlin could be changed by the signing of a peace treaty between the Soviet Union and East Germany, as Soviet Premier Khrushchev threatens to do.

Britain warned of the danger of unfavorable consequences if the Soviet Union tried by its own action to change Berlin conditions.

The U.S. note was an answer to a memorandum which Khrushchev gave to President Kennedy at their Vienna conference June 4. He was reported to have taken a very tough line in his talk with Kennedy and in subsequent public statements. He has declared he would sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany by the end of this year.

This has led to fears that the East Germans would try to cut the Allies' access to Berlin, as a first move toward taking over the whole city.

The U.S. note took an uncompromising line insofar as its right to be in Berlin and to have access to the city are concerned.

The note today said bluntly this country "is insisting on, and will defend its legal rights against attempts at unilateral abrogation because the freedom of the people of West Berlin depends upon the maintenance of these rights."

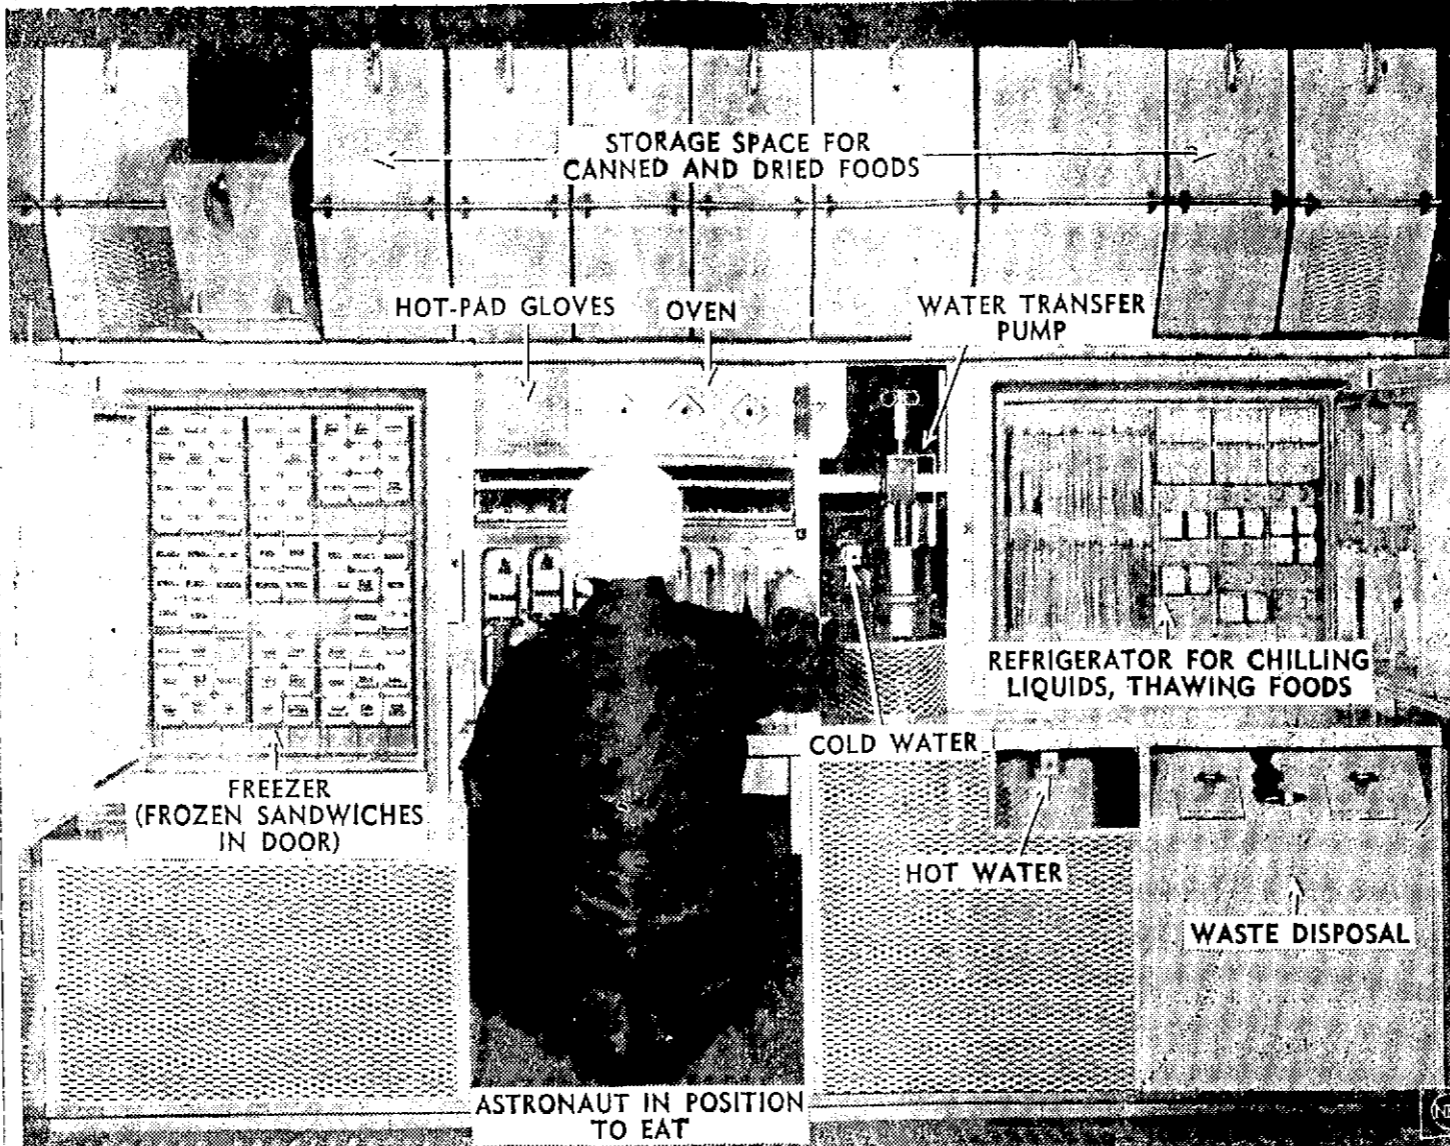

The U.S., British and French notes were dispatched to Moscow after long consultation among the Allied powers.

The United States took the position that the Berlin problem is not insoluble but must be solved as part of the problem of a divided Germany "on the basis of the universally recognized principle of self-determination."

The Soviet government, the U.S. note continued, has presented the Western powers with a demand that they accept the Soviet solution of the German problem which in the long run would endanger the peace.

The Soviet solution would keep East and West Germany permanently divided, according to the West, and the Western power contend this would be a continuing threat to peace.

Since the Western powers have turned down the Soviet solution, the United States said, the Soviet Union "threatens to violate its solemn international obligations, to determine unilaterally the fate of millions of Germans without their consent, and to use force against its World War II allies if they do not voluntarily surrender their rights and vital positions." "The Soviet government must understand that such a course of action is not only unacceptable, but is a more serious menace to world peace for which it bears been optimistic.

Even so, the nation's newest weather satellite, the Tiros III, fired a week ago, had detected signs of a developing high pressure system in the Caribbean almost as soon as it went into orbit.

Subsequent reports from the Tiros were watched closely since they substantiated ground reports of the high pressure front with multiple cloud layers.

In announcing the postponement of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the cloud cover was attributable to "an easterly wave which has been moving across the Caribbean for the past three or four days."

The weather hitch developed as technicians and scientists were preparing to resume the countdown which would have led to a scheduled 6 a.m. liftoff this morning.

The presence of the high clouds would have hampered full photographic coverage of the operation which scientists insist upon from blastoff to burnout of the booster.

The delay caused a slight mounting of tension here in what had been an otherwise calm acceptance of the fact that another man was scheduled to take a 300-mile ride like a bullet.

NASA officials said they had noted a sort of "ho hum" attitude toward the flight and observed that "Grissom could have less than a perfect flight."

The attitude was attributed to the perfect space flight by Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., on May 5 and the calm assumption that what had been done before could be done again.

Grissom is scheduled to take off in a 4,040 pound space capsule named Liberty Bell 7.

The suborbital flight is to be almost a carbon copy of the arc-ridden ride taken by Shepard. His capsule hurtled 116 miles high and landed 302 miles down range after a 15-minute ride that reached a peak speed of 5,160 miles an hour.

And Grissom, of Mitchell, Ind., was reported to be a "cool cucumber" as the time neared for him to don his silvery space suit and ride the elevator to the top of the rocket gantry.

Grissom, revealed Monday as the pilot for the flight, is a 5-foot-105-pound veteran of the Korean War. A crack test pilot, he has logged more than 3,400 hours of flying time.

All his experience as a test pilot is needed on the flight. He is called upon to perform a number of in-flight tasks, including actually controlling the roll, pitch and yaw of the spacecraft for brief periods.

But his job is to be easier than Shepard's was. The total assignments were reduced so Grissom would have more time just to sit back and look at things inside and outside the capsule.

A "picture window," 19 inches high, 11 inches across the base and 7 across the top, was installed. Grissom hopes to see much of the East Coast of the United States and also perhaps catch a glimpse of stars in the heavens.

SUSPENSE SETTE

A Short Short Story

WINDOW TO THE WORLD
by LESTER ARNO

Mrs. Thornton Trowbridge Thurston closed her bedroom door, walked briskly to her desk and carefully selected several sheets of her very best stationery—the discreet gray, with the initials "T. T. T." tastefully engraved in the upper left hand corner. She selected a ball-point pen, considered it, and then rejected it. A piece of toilet tissue in her hand, she neatly filled a fountain pen with a broad point. She tried out the pen by writing "Mrs. Thornton Trowbridge Thurston" and then beneath the signature she wrote, "Priscilla Thurston." Satisfied with the results, she began to compose her letter.

"To the Editor:
"I wish to differ with you on the subject of African nationalism."
"In your editorial in last night's paper you try to make out a case for one of two issues. You say Africa must choose between Colonialism or Nationalism.

Each of my children is a distinct personality.

"Please permit a mere woman, a homemaker, to point out to you that there are other ways of governing in peace and in harmony. I am the mother of eight children, varying in age from eight years to 26 years. Each of my children is a distinct personality full responsibility before all mankind."

The U.S. note maintained its tone of stern rejection of the Soviet Union's Berlin demand throughout its 2,500-word length. Much of the document was devoted to reviewing the Soviet Union's threats and demands and rebutting them point by point.

with definite tastes and opinions, yet they live under one roof in peace and harmony because they are governed with understanding and human sympathy. Needless to say, my husband and I have spent much time and energy in evolving fundamental rules for conduct and behavior in our home. We also respect the rights of the individual and have taught this respect to our children.

"We frown upon corporal punishment or force in any shape or form, yet our children respond to the intellectual arguments that readily adapt themselves to government in our home, in Africa or anywhere in the world."

Mrs. Thurston paused in her writing, read what she had written and smiled with satisfaction. Then she looked up from her desk toward the window that faced the garden. She studied the window and then the view and returned to her task.

"As I write this letter, I pause to look out my window at our garden, and the thought occurs to me that if a home is secure, its windows look out, not on a garden, but on the world. So, too, if a government is secure, it looks out a window to the world. "African leaders, indeed world leaders, need only take a lesson from the homemakers of the world to know how to govern in peace and harmony. When one knows how to govern children, one can govern adults. Civil conflict and wars never proved anything. Only when reason prevails can one hope for a lasting peace.

"If the mothers of the world allowed their children to govern, childish nationalism would ruin every home. If parents governed without considering the personalities, the hopes, the aspirations of their children, we would have domestic colonialism — and again, ruin and despair.

"I am sure you do not have the courage to print this letter." Carefully she re-read the letter to make sure the words were spelled correctly.

Mrs. Thurston signed the letter, addressed the envelope, sealed and stamped it and strode toward her bedroom door.

As she opened it, a torrent of sound greeted her. Cries, shrieks, waits and screamed threats pounded against her ears. Mrs. Thurston surveyed the scene quietly for a moment.

Then, in a voice so strident it pierced through all the din, she screamed, "Children: Stop it! Stop it this instant Joan—let go of Bobby's hair or I'll slap you! Betsy, Bill. Get off that sofa or you'll both go without supper tonight!"

Mrs. Thurston slapped her daughter, Joan. Instantly, peace prevailed in Mrs. Thurston's Congo, and sunshine poured in from the garden windows.

Redistrict Ruling Is Considered

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Cleveland County Rep. Raymond Mays said today he will ask Atty. Gen. Frank Holt to rule on whether a forthcoming special legislative session can deal with the question of congressional redistricting.

Mays said that if the question cannot be treated at the special session, and he thinks it cannot, he will seek a special election on a redistricting plan approved by the 1961 General Assembly. Mays was author of the approved plan.

The redistricting plan now is scheduled for a vote in the November, 1962, general election, which means all congressional candidates will have to run at large in the 1962 elections.

The constitution provides that a special referendum on a legislative act can be held if petitions are filed with names of 15 per cent of the qualified voters. That would be 63,290 signatures.

Mays said he will circulate petitions for a special referendum because he is unalterably opposed to an at-large congressional race.

Petitions circulated by Jefferson and Lincoln county interests effected referral of the act in the first place. The two counties were unhappy because the plan — which cut the number of Arkansas districts from six to four — put them in a district with northeast Arkansas.

Mays said he had legal advice that the Legislature couldn't adopt a new plan while the old one is under referral.

Mays said he has no alternate plan in mind, in case the Legislature could act, but that he has talked to "the Pine Bluff boys" about a compromise.

Mays said he feels any referral vote should be held before next summer's Democratic primaries.

Paul Klipsch, Mrs. R. E. Mores, Mrs. Rufus Sorrells and Mrs. Smith, enjoyed a delicious covered dish supper in the new home of Mrs. Roy Stephenson with Mrs. Ben Edmiston as co-hostess.

The devotional, "How to Use Our Advantages," was given by Mrs. B. N. Holt. A review of "The Peoples' Houses" was given by the author, Mrs. Rufus Sorrells.

Won't Publicize New Freedom Rides

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Charles R. Oldham, national chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said today future freedom rides from St. Louis will be less publicized.

He said the decision was made as a result of a just-concluded trip which indicated freedom riders can travel safely in certain areas of the South.

Oldham had maintained that the "full glare of publicity" was needed in some areas to guard against possible violence to riders, such as happened in Anniston, Ala., where a bus was burned.

Four integrationists tested his terminal facilities in Little Rock, Ark., where they were arrested. Shreveport and New Orleans, La. They reported on their trip at an art and jazz festival Sunday night.

The Rev. B. Elton Cox, a field secretary of CORE and one of the riders, said he was "pleased with the results of the test" in New Orleans.

The riders said law enforcement officers along the way were "very courteous."

Action Deferred on China Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee deferred action Monday on a resolution to put Congress on record again in opposition to diplomatic recognition of Red China and its seating in the United Nations.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., Senate minority leader, principal sponsor of the proposal, requested the delay until he can consider revised language under study by the committee.

Seeks Revocation of Suspensions

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Prosecuting Attorney John Norman Harkey said he would ask today for revocation of suspension of jail terms for two White County men charged with rape last week.

The men, James Sterling, 19, of Providence, and Theron Harmon, 21, of Rose Bud, were convicted in April of drunk driving and disturbing the peace. Their 40-day jail terms were suspended.

Friday they were charged in Searcy with raping a 21-year-old female hitchhiker near Bald Knob last Wednesday night.

An investigation revealed the attack occurred in Jackson County instead of White County so the Searcy charge was dropped and the men were moved to Jackson County Jail in Searcy.

Harkey said he has not filed charges in the attack pending completion of his investigation. But he said he would file petitions asking that the men be forced to serve their 40-day jail terms.

May Return Land to Fayetteville

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Government Operations Committee today approved a bill authorizing the government to give back to Fayetteville, Ark., about 19 acres for park purposes.

The land is part of 32 acres donated to the government by Fayetteville in 1952 for construction of a Veterans Administration facility. The 19 acres has been declared surplus to the Veterans Administration's needs.

The bill, by Sens. J. William Fulbright and John L. McClellan, Arkansians, Democrats, requires that the land be used for park purposes.

Redistrict Formula Is Studied

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attorney General Frank Holt says his staff is preparing an opinion on whether the Arkansas Legislature can take the congressional redistricting controversy out of the hands of the voters.

The voters got the problem after the legislature passed a redistricting act and petitions were circulated to refer the act to a popular vote in November 1962.

Holt said Benton Rep. Hardy Croston asked whether the legislature now could pass a new redistricting law in the light of the referral petitions.

Cleveland Rep. Raymond Mays, who sponsored the act passed by the legislature, said Monday if the assembly could not consider the proposal, he would circulate petitions to refer it to an immediate vote at a special election.

This would head off an at-large race for candidates for congressional seats. Four seats will have to be filled.

Holt said the problem is not an easy one. "We probably may have to draw on some out of state law before we can answer," he said. "Right now we are exploring the laws on the subject."

The opinion would carry considerable weight with the legislature in the absence of a court decision.

Warns About Pickerlap Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., has notified the administration that unless it takes steps to curtail the import of pickerlap cotton he will introduce legislation to that effect.

Imports of pickerlap—raw cotton in bales—have seriously damaged the domestic cotton industry, Mills said.

The administration, he said, could remedy the situation by requiring that pickerlap cotton be included in the cotton import restrictions program.

At present, Mills said, the administration is holding cotton imports to 30,000 bales yearly but pickerlap cotton imports are outside that limitation.

Mills said he has urged the executive department to amend the import restriction program to include pickerlap cotton imports within the 30,000-bale limitation.

If this is not done, Mills added, he plans to have his House Ways and Means Committee bring out legislation to correct the situation.

Cotton state congressmen complain that pickerlap cotton actually is raw cotton put up in 30-pound bales but that the Tariff Commission has ruled it is processed cotton and this is not included in the raw cotton import limitation.

DOROTHY DIX Daughter Wants to Meet Real Father

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My wife, children and home are gone. I am a severe drinker. Until this happened I was a respected citizen. Now, everything I hold dear is lost. Each day I find it harder to live by and with myself. Being alone gives me time to dwell on the hardships I've caused my poor wife. But to the few who continue to have faith in me I still blame her. Yet I need her and the children more than anything else in this world. The truth is I lack the guts to own up to my faults, trying instead to convince my wife by devious ways that she should come home. Each effort proves fruitless. Tell me what to do. —I'm puzzled.

Dear Puzled: Yours is the pattern of the typical alcoholic. Until you can admit to your wife and friends that you are in the wrong, there is little hope for a reconciliation with her or a change in your habits. However, you've taken one step in the right direction; you've admitted to yourself and me, in writing, that you alone are to blame. Now, take the next step. Fess up to your wife. Send her this column. Special Delivery, with a letter asking her to help you help yourself. And, while you're waiting for an answer, contact Alcoholics Anonymous. This wonderful organization helps one out of every 20 so-called "bottle babies." Arouse that latent will power. Be one of the 20!

Dear Helen: I recently met a

Committee Okays Kennedy's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's plan to reorganize the National Labor Relations Board won a first round victory today in the Senate Government Operations Committee.

By a 6-3 vote the committee went on record as opposed to a move to veto the plan.

The plan, which would allow the NLRB to delegate its function to individual members to speed its work, now goes to the Senate. The vote there is scheduled for Wednesday.

Kennedy has a 500 record up to now on his reorganization plans, which automatically go into effect unless vetoed by either the Senate or House within 60 days after they are submitted.

Congress has vetoed his proposals to reorganize the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Communications Commission, but has approved reorganization of the Federal Trade Commission and Civil Aeronautics Board.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available.

Ford Wins No. 7; Homers Voided by Rain

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Whitey Ford won No. 17 and his 11th in a row with a six-hitter Monday night as the New York Yankees defeated Baltimore 5-0. The second game of the two-night doubleheader was postponed because of rain, washing out and home runs by Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris.

That left the Yanks a percentage point behind the Detroit Tigers, who whipped Kansas City 7-4, in the American League pennant race.

Early Wynn gained his 292nd career victory with a three-hit, 4-1 decision over Boston for the Chicago White Sox in the only other game scheduled in the AL.

In the National, Warren Spahn won No. 297 as Milwaukee belted Cincinnati 13-4 and trimmed the Reds' lead to four games over Los Angeles. The second place Dodgers defeated Pittsburgh 6-4. Philadelphia beat San Francisco 10-7, and St. Louis swept a two-night pair from the Chicago Cubs, 10-6 and 8-5.

Ford (17-2), who hadn't won more than 16 in one season since hitting his one-year high with a 19-6 record in 1956, struck out nine. Mantle and Bill Skowron, back after missing six games because of injury, homered in the sixth inning off loser Milt Pappas (6-5).

It was Mantle's 33rd, and he tagged what would have been No. 34 except for the rain that washed out the nightcap. Maris, the major league leader with 43, and Cleo Boyer also hit no-count homers off Skinny Brown in the second game.

The Tigers made it in a breeze against the A's. Norm Cash crashed a grand-slam home run in the first inning off loser Joe Nuxhall (4-6) and Rocky Colavito's sacrifice fly brought in the clincher in the fifth.

Right-hander Paul Foytack (6-5), escaping from the bullpen for his first start since Memorial Day, was the winner.

Wynn (18-2) gave up nothing but singles and struck out five, losing a shutout in the fourth with a bases-loaded walk. Rookie Galen Cisco (1-4) lost it.

Baseball's Ty Cobb Dies From Cancer

By VERNON BUTLER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Ty Cobb, whose many records stand as a towering monument to the fiercest competitor ever to flash across the baseball scene, is dead at 74.

The incomparable Georgia Peach died Monday of cancer of the prostate gland. The diagnosis, first made in 1959, was not made public until death claimed the baseball great at Emory University Hospital. Cobb, who had made several trips to Emory, entered the hospital for the last time June 5.

"In addition to the cancer, he had diabetes and chronic heart disease," Cobb's physician, Dr. Hugh Wood, said. Wood said X-ray examinations in December 1959 showed that the cancer had spread to the pelvic bone and vertebrae.

"He died peacefully and without pain," the physician reported. With Cobb during his last days were his son, James, two daughters, Miss Shirley Cobb and Beverly McLauren, all of California; and his first wife, the former Charlie Marion Lombard of Augusta, Ga. The Cobbs were married in 1906 and divorced in 1947. Two years later, Cobb married Frances Cass of Buffalo, N.Y., and they were divorced.

Private funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3 p.m. Eastern Standard Time in the chapel of the Thomas J. McGehee Funeral Home, Cornelia, Ga., with burial at nearby Ryeleigh. The family requested that in lieu of flowers, contributions be made to the Cobb Education Foundation.

Death thwarted Cobb's desire to build a home—"in which to die," as he put it—atop a mountain near Cornelia in northeast Georgia only a few miles from the Narrows community where he was born Dec. 18, 1890.

"I came back to Georgia to die," Cobb said in one of his last interviews. "I'm a small town boy who never got used to the big lights."

He spent most of his retirement years at Alton, Calif., and at Lake Tahoe, Nev., before returning to his native state in 1953. He lived in a small apartment in Cornelia.

He quit baseball after the 1923 season with a lifetime batting average of .367, highest in the history of the game. He batted .367 in his first season as a major league player in 1905, then .367 for 23 consecutive years. He homered Detroit for six years, 1911-16.

Cobb led the American League in hitting 12 seasons, nine of them in a row. He hit over 400 home runs, compiled lifetime

matter of FACT

If you should ever meet up with a deadly snake, here's a heartening fact to remember. Snakes can't crawl faster than an adult can run. They look faster than they are. A black racer was once timed and viewers were asked to guess his speed. Most guesses were 10 to 15 miles an hour. Yet the snake at his speediest hit no more than 3.7 miles an hour.

total of 4,191 hits, scored 2,244 runs and stole 392 bases. He stole 96 bases in 1915 for one of his many all-time records.

Cobb's position at the summit of baseball was emphasized in 1936 when baseball writers awarded him 222 of a possible 226 votes, more than they gave Babe Ruth, Hans Wagner or Christy Mathewson when the first group was enshrined in baseball's Hall of Fame.

"I wouldn't change a thing," Cobb declared recently in reviewing his baseball career. "I played every game to the hilt. I always played to win. But I never filed my spikes the way they said I did, and I never deliberately spiked anyone in my life."

Spahn Nails Down Victory Number 297

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southpaw Warren Spahn nailed his 297th victory as Milwaukee beat Cincinnati 13-4 Monday night and trimmed the Reds' lead to four games in the National League race. The second place Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Pittsburgh 6-4.

Last place Philadelphia knocked off San Francisco 10-7, and the St. Louis Cardinals came from behind in both games for a 10-6 and 8-5 two-night sweep over the Chicago Cubs.

In the American League, Detroit whipped Kansas City 7-4 for a one-percentage point edge over New York. The Yankees beat Baltimore 5-0 but the second game of the twinnish was rained out. The Chicago White Sox beat Boston 4-1, with Early Wynn winning No. 292, in the only other game scheduled.

Spahn (9-11) gave up 11 hits and blew a 3-0 lead when Wally Post batted a two-run homer in the third inning, but walked just one and went all the way. Howie Nunn (2-1) was the loser in relief.

Duke Snider, batting eighth for the first time in five years, hit a two-run single as the Dodgers built a 6-2 lead with four runs in the seventh inning off Bob Friend (9-11). It was barely enough for Stan Williams (10-1), who needed relief help in the eighth when he was joined for solo home runs by Bill Mazeroski and pinch-hitter Rocky Nelson. Dick Stuart also homered for the Pirates. Tommy Davis hit a homer for the Dodgers' first two runs, in the second.

The Phillies twice came from behind against the Giants, pulling it out with three runs in the ninth on a walk, Tony Gonzalez' tie-breaking double and a triple by Ruben Amaro. Jack Baldschun (2-1) was the winner and Bob Bolin (2-1) the loser, both in relief.

St. Louis collected 33 hits against the Cubs. Reliever Lindy McDaniel saved both games—the first for Curt Simmons (4-7) and the second for Ernie Broglio (7-9) who returned from the bullpen for his first start since June 21. Reliever Don Elston (6-5) and Jim Brewer (0-1) were the losers.

Health Issues Currently in the News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Athlete's foot, the question of new diseases, and drinking in the Soviet Union are in the medical news.

Bacteria are found to be a cause of athlete's foot affecting the toes and toe webbing. Miami, Fla., physicians report.

The itching, scaling and cracking of skin on the toes long has been blamed on fungus infection only. But Drs. Imrich Sarkany, David Taplan and Harvey Blank isolated rod-shaped bacteria from the skin patches. Antibiotics which strike at germs can help clear up the trouble, they report.

NEW DISEASES? "New" virus diseases seem to be popping up.

But it is highly improbable they are brand new diseases. More likely, they've always been around, but were just submerged or not recognized because of more prevalent diseases, say Drs. Ernest H. Watson and George H. Lowrey, University of Michigan pediatricians.

When old killer or serious diseases were conquered, the virus diseases had a better chance of making a mark, became more prevalent or people became more aware of them.

The U.S.S.R. has as much alcoholism as any other country. A Soviet psychiatrist told Dr. Morris E. Chafetz of Boston, but he didn't estimate the number. Officially, the Soviet government says very little about it.

Dr. Chafetz investigated alcoholism in the Soviet Union, Poland, and Czechoslovakia, and concluded that "the Soviet attitude toward the alcoholic patient tends to be moralistic and punitive, as in the United States."

He was much impressed with Czech programs of anti-alcoholic clinics and other methods of helping the alcoholic to stop or control his drinking.

Breaks Hunch Better's Dream

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The weatherman broke up a hunch better's dream today at Mike Park.

Just by coincidence, a home named Missile Glow was favored to win the Astronaut Pursue. But the weatherman fouled it up with a prediction of bad weather that brought cancellation of the United States' second astronaut shot.

Travelers Have a Hex on Lookouts

By VERNON BUTLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Chattanooga studied ample evidence today that Little Rock has indeed saddled the Southern Association pennant hopefuls with the most vexing sort of hex.

The Lookouts who do very well against most of their Dixie rivals, but lately they have been downright futile against the Travelers. To demonstrate the power of their hex, the Travs sent a pitcher who had lost six straight decisions against Chattanooga's ace, John Boozler, who had won seven straight. So what happened? Little Rock won, naturally. The Travs topped the Lookouts 4-1 on 23; Mays, San Francisco, 22.

Special Deer Season Is Designated

LITTLE ROCK — The Arkansas Game and Fish Commission Monday established a special 3 day deer season for Dec. 18 to 21 and set dates for the regular deer and dove seasons this year.

The commission said the special season was established so students would have a chance to hunt during the Christmas holidays but it would be open to all hunters.

Dates for the regular deer season ran Nov. 13-18 and Dec. 11-17. Only bucks may be taken except during the last three days of the November period when both sexes may be shot in Arkansas County.
